About Uttara Blood Foundation

Uttara Blood Foundation (UBF) is a non-profit, youth-led organization dedicated to saving lives through voluntary blood donation. We believe that no one should lose their life due to the unavailability of blood at the right time. Our mission is to build a reliable donor network and ensure urgent access to blood for patients in need. Although Uttara, Dhaka is a well-developed area with many hospitals, patients frequently face critical risks due to delays in blood availability. The crisis becomes even more severe during dengue outbreaks, when demand rapidly increases. Initially, we managed blood requests through personal contacts, but growing needs drove us to build a structured and active network. Our journey began on 27 April 2024, and since then, UBF has expanded into a strong community with over 1,000 active donors across Dhaka. We connect donors and patients efficiently, ensuring timely support during emergencies. Besides blood donation, we conduct awareness programs, health workshops, blood grouping, hemoglobin testing, and counseling sessions in schools, colleges, and universities. We also provide donor follow-up support and certification in recognition of their contribution. UBF is driven by passionate youth volunteers and guided by doctors, educators, and social workers. We collaborate with hospitals and organizations to promote a culture of voluntary blood donation. To date, we have facilitated 200+ blood donations, built a large active donor base, and organized multiple impactful awareness initiatives. Our future goals include developing a digital donor database, expanding community campaigns, and building a nationwide donor network to ensure that no life is lost due to a blood shortage. What began as a small initiative has now evolved into a powerful youth movement built on compassion, service, and a shared commitment to saving lives.

Our Activities

Whenever there is a need for blood, we use our extensive network to quickly connect donors with recipients. At present, we have over a thousand dedicated blood donors, and we are continuously expanding this network. In addition to facilitating blood donations, we regularly organize awareness campaigns and health workshops in schools, colleges, and universities. These programs include blood group testing, hemoglobin checks, health screenings, and educational sessions on various health topics. We also provide post-donation services, offer free donor counseling, and ensure proper documentation and certification for volunteers. Our initiatives are youth-led and focus on building a culture of voluntary blood donation through collaboration with medical institutions and hospitals.

UTTARA BLOOD FOUNDATION

Our Aim & Future

Our goal is to create a strong network across Dhaka city to ensure that blood is always available when needed. We plan to divide Dhaka into six sectors, with active members in each sector making sure blood is available at every hospital.

We also want to set up a dedicated hotline and emergency team to respond quickly to blood requests. In the future, we hope to expand this network across the entire country and establish a national blood bank system. Through these efforts, we aim to save lives by making sure blood is always there when it's needed most.
